A Profitable Joke.

Near Shasta City, Cal., a gang of gold miners were toiling in a gulch when a ragged stranger, evidently ignorant of mining, came along and looked on.

The miner near him took out a $5 nugget, and anxiety overcame the ignorant stranger.

"Say," he asked, "where can I go to diggin to find it like that?"

The hardy miner stopped his work, and giving the wink to all the boys so that the joke should not be lost pointed up to the barren rocks where no gold had ever been found.

"You see that rough lookin place?"

"Yes," said the new hand.

"Well, thar it is rich. Jes' you stake out a claim an go to work, an when we finish here we'll come up too."

The new hand thanked the miner, and the boys all grinned their appreciation of the joke. That afternoon a solitary figure was seen picking on the rocky hillside, and every time the miners looked up they roared with laughter.

But the next day the new miner struck a pocket and took out several thousands of dollars in gold. Then he came and thanked the miner who had sent him up there and went down into the valley and bought a farm, while the other miners dotted that same rocky hillside for days without finding a pocket. They agreed that it was a joke, but not exactly of the kind they had intended.—Youth's Companion.

Modern Lamps.

The latest reported improvement in lamps is a device intended to obviate the objectionable shadow thrown on the ceiling by most regenerative lamps and to overcome some other features which detract from the value of the principle. The difficulty of the shade thrown upward is met by forming the upper part of the lamp of etched ornamental glass instead of having a metallic dome, as is ordinarily the case. A good illumination is thus obtained without the loss of any downward light—two streams of hot air are supplied to the burners, one being heated by means of the regenerator, which is of cast iron, the other being warmed in its passage through the lamp casing.

Another point dealt with in this construction is the deposit of carbon on the ceiling, which is usual with such lamps. This is practically reduced to nothing—first, by the small amount of gas burned per hour and the perfect combustion obtained, and, next, by the products of combustion being emitted from the lamp laterally instead of being projected upward toward the ceiling. This arrangement has the merit of simplicity, and the effect is very satisfactory.—New York Sun.

A Remedy That Failed.

There is a man in Harlem who has a much respected aunt. This aunt is wealthy and eccentric. She came to live with this Harlem resident, and having been reared in the country and having recently come from there she missed the rural hum of insects and the agricultural noises of a country residence.

Being anxious to please his relative and make her reconciled to city life, this Harlem man hired a number of boys to secure crickets for him. He bought 20 cans of crickets and turned them out to pasture in his back yard. For several nights the cheerful chirping of the crickets proved very soothing to the aged aunt. The various cats in the neighborhood soon became aware of the unusual number of crickets in this back yard. Cats are fond of crickets, and now the Harlem man has cats and not crickets in his back yard. He says that all the cats in Harlem have made his yard a trysting place, and the aunt threatens to move back into the country.—New York Herald.

Society In Alaska.

Visitors to Sitka pronounce it not a bad thing at all to be a girl in Alaska society, for girls are a long way above par in the social swim.

There are card parties and receptions. There are teas and dinners on the trim little gunboats, with men to preside at the urn and show how badly even the best of the sex do the things a woman does so gracefully. There are balls in the Russian castle on the hill, where in the old days the Muscovite governors brought their high bred wives and held carnival through the long Alaskan winters.

Like the Japanese, in case of company, everybody borrows of everybody. The governor's wife is served from her own china at the captain's dinner, and the lieutenant's bride may eat from her own wedding spoons at the paymaster's party, but there is less strife and envy and all uncharitableness than in social circles at the great centers of civilization, where everybody is striving to outdo everybody else.—Sitka Letter.

A Tramp's Problem.

A tramp having found a hen's feather in his travels about the city kept it until night, when he carefully placed it on the pavement in a back alley and slept upon it. Awaking next morning and looking scornfully upon the bit of down he exclaimed, "Gee wizz! if one feather is as hard to sleep on as that, what must a whole bedful be?"—Boston Courier.

Apples as Medicine.

Chemically the apple is composed of vegetable fiber albumen, sugar, gum, chlorophyl, malic acid, gallic acid, lime and much water. Furthermore, the German analysts say that the apple contains a larger percentage of phosphorous than any fruit or vegetable. The phosphorous is admirably adapted for renewing the essential nervous matter of the brain and spinal cord. It is perhaps for the same reason rudely understood that old Scandinavian traditions represent the apple as the food of the gods, who, when they felt themselves to be growing feeble and infirm, resorted to this fruit for renewing their powers of mind and body. Also the acids of the apple are of signal use for men of sedentary habits, whose livers are sluggish in action, those acids serving to eliminate from the body noxious matters which if retained would make the brain heavy and dull or bring jaundice or skin eruptions and other allied troubles.

Some such an experience must have led to our custom of taking apple sauce with roast pork, rich goose and like dishes. The malic acid of ripe apples, either raw or cooked, will neutralize any excess of chalky matter engendered by eating too much meat. It is also the fact that such fresh fruits as the apple, the pear, the plum, when taken ripe without sugar, diminish acidity of the stomach rather than provoke it. The vegetable sauces and juices are converted into alkaline carbonates, which tend to counteract acidity.—Southern Clinic.

Sleeping Car Berths.

Five years ago all berths on sleepers were made up with feet to the engine, unless the reverse was ordered. Today nearly all berths are made up the other way on the main lines, and it is the exception that the old position is retained.

No one of our correspondents have given a reason for this, save one that on an elevator no one objects to going up, though a descent is often disagreeable. There is the additional reason that whatever draft is created is more agreeable if it comes from behind the head than if it blows in the face. The change has also come since the porter's or the sleeper's rules, one or both, were less stringent as to closing windows in lower berths. If a window is open an inch or two, the passenger's comfort is greatly increased, and the open window is naturally at the rear end of the berth, and as naturally the berth is made up with the pillow at the head.

Whatever the cause, the curious fact remains that a habit of making up berths with heads to the rear has suddenly been altered by the general consent of travelers, who have all found out what a few discovered 10 years ago—that the way to be comfortable on a sleeper is to take a lower berth, have the head to the engine and wedge up the rear window of the berth an inch or two, so as to let in fresh air.—Railroad Gazette.

Artist and Amateur.

A critic who was recently asked to define the line between artist and amateur stated that an amateur's sketches were labored and finished up to invite favorable criticism, while the artist's sketches were broad and unfinished, suggesting much to himself only. Could not the dividing line be better defined? The amount of time spent on a sketch often depends upon opportunity. When the time is not needed elsewhere, one quite able to sketch in the boldest, most rapid style may prefer to go on and produce a picture, trusting to the inspiration of the present rather than that of the future and to vision rather than to memory. If something greater is to be subsequently developed from the work, it will be no less suggestive because of its finished character.

It may not be easy to define the dividing line between artists and amateurs, but it is easy to point out a well recognized one that is identical with it—the one that is drawn between poets and mere writers of verse.—Art Amateur.

The Burglar Came.

It was an agent for a big manufacturing concern who was talking.

"I once got out a poster," said he, "which started in: 'Keep your eye on this. A burglar is coming.' This I distributed broadcast in the towns in the northern part of the state. Among other places it was hung conspicuously in a small grocery and dry goods store in one of the towns in that section.

"One morning the proprietor, when he opened up shop, found that my notice had been amended to read: 'Keep your eye on this. The burglar has come.' The correction was made in pencil marks.

"And sure enough the burglar had come, and he had carried off about $600 in money and goods."—New York Sun.

Argus Eyed and Hydra Headed.

The term "Argus eyed" means watchful. According to the Grecian fable, Argus had 100 eyes, and Juno set him to watch all of whom she was jealous. When Argus was slain, she transplanted his eyes into the tail of the peacock. "Hydra headed" is a term derived from the fable of Hercules and the Hydra. The Hydra had nine heads, and Hercules was sent to kill it. As soon as he struck off one its heads, two shot up in its place.—St. Louis Republic.

THE WORLD'S DEAD.

The Comparatively Small Area Which Would Provide Them a Graveyard.

In that curious article "The Number of People Since Adam," which has found a place in nearly all of the "queer" columns in the United States during the past three or four years, the author asserts. "The whole surface of the globe has been dug over 120 times in order to get room for burial places." Let us see.

In 6,000 years we have 60 centuries and in each century an average of three generations or 180 generations in all, each being a generation of 1,500,000,000. Give to each man, woman and child a grave 5 feet by 2 or 10 square feet. A square mile contains something less than 28,000,000 square feet. If this last calculation be correct, you will have to have a cemetery 55 miles long by 10 wide for each generation. Now multiply this by 180, the whole number of generations "since Adam," and you have a burying ground large enough for every human being that has died in the last 6,000 years.

This vast cemetery, although awful to contemplate, would be but 1,800 miles long by 55 miles wide, or in order to get it in better proportion say 220 miles wide and 450 miles long. In other words a burying ground containing 100,000 square miles would be sufficient for the graves of every human being that has ever existed. The area of Missouri and Iowa combined would be amply sufficient for such a cemetery, with 22,425 miles left for walks and driveways.

If the calculation is carried out for 100,000 years instead of 6,000, it will be found that the cemetery need only be a square 1,760 miles in extent each way. On this basis the United States east of the Mississippi river is large enough to furnish a grave for all the human beings that have died during the past 6,000 and for the 94,000 years to come.—St. Louis Republic.

Through African Spectacles.

Mr. Selous has contributed an important observation upon the feeling of the African tribes toward the European races they come in contact with—the Englishmen and the Portuguese. Probably it would not occur to any one that the energetic, masterful, intelligent Briton ranked lower in native estimation than the effeminate, almost effete, Portuguese. Yet this Mr. Selous declares to be the case. The native judges by himself. He knows that if he had the command of men and money, he would eat and drink his full and sleep most of the time that he was not eating.

The Portuguese, who does all this, and is carried about in a litter, appears to the African to be a man who has reached the goal toward which the Englishman is striving painfully and ineffectually. Old Indians have constantly mentioned that rulers like Sir Charles Napier and Sir Charles Trevelyan, who were careless of appearances, forfeited a great deal of the respect that was properly their due. The theory has always been intelligible at least for a country of old civilization like India, but one would not have expected to find it repeated for Mashonaland. Probably we shall continue none the less to consolidate empires and make history in our shirt sleeves.—Westminster Gazette.

A Snake Story.

Said a well known raconteur of snake stories the other day to an editor, by way of a windup to several good ones:

"I can't call any more to mind just at present. My wife knows a lot of snake stories, but I forget 'em. By the way, though, I've got a regular living curiosity down on my place. One day my eldest boy was sitting on the back step doing his sums, and he couldn't get 'em right. He felt something against his face, and there was a little snake curled up on his shoulder and looking at the slate. In four minutes he had done all those sums. We've tamed him, so he keeps all our accounts, and he is the quickest head at figures you ever saw. He'll run up a column 8 feet long in three seconds. I wouldn't take a prize cow for him."

"What kind of a snake is he?" inquired the editor curiously.

"The neighbors call him an adder."

"Oh, yes, yes!" said the editor, a little disconcerted. "I've heard of the species."—Pall Mall Budget.

Mars.

The results of six months' observations of Mars have led an astronomer at the Lick observatory to the conclusion—contrary to the generally received views—that the dark portions of the disk represent land and the light portions water. This is supported by observations of San Francisco bay from Mount Hamilton, in which the bay appears brighter than the neighboring valley and mountains at the same distance. On this hypothesis the "canals" would correspond to ridges of mountains almost wholly immersed in water, while their doubling may represent parallel ridges of which our own earth furnishes examples.—Science.

An Optical Advantage.

"And so Jimpson read his poem to you yesterday? How did you endure it?"

"I just fixed my glass eye on him and went to sleep with the other."—Harlem Life.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Hawaiian Muddle—Government Receipts—Other Matters.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Recognizing the immensity of the task set for them by the Morgan resolution providing for a thorough investigation of the Hawaiian muddle the members of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations decided not to await the reassembling of Congress to begin the investigation. Accordingly the work was begun this week by the sub-committee previously designated, and if the present intention of examining every person who has been in a position to know anything of importance relating to the matter be carried out the investigation will not be concluded before the 1st of March, if so soon. There is some disappointment because of the decision of the committee to conduct the investigation secretly, but in arriving at that decision the committee has only followed precedent. Besides, the members of the committee believe that the knowledge that their testimony will not have to be given publicly will cause many individuals, both Hawaiians and Americans, to testify who otherwise would not do so. Members of the committee say that the investigation is to be divested of all partizanship and to be solely devoted to getting at the truth. In view of the importance of this work I append the membership of the committee: Democrats—Morgan of Alabama, chairman; Butler of South Carolina, Gray of Delaware, Turpie of Indiana, and Daniel of Virginia. Republicans—Sherman of Ohio, Frye of Maine, Dolph of Oregon and Davis of Minnesota.

Government receipts continue to fall below the expectations of Treasury officials, and it is now considered that the actual deficit at the close of the present fiscal year will greatly exceed the estimate of Secretary Carlisle made several months ago, which it will be remembered was $28,000,000. That Congress will have to do something very soon to provide the money to meet the expenses of the Government is apparent, but neither Senators nor Representatives seem to have a very clear idea of what that something shall be. Senator Voorhees, who as chairman of the Senate Committee on Finance will have much to do with deciding, thinks that the proper thing is to give the Secretary of the Treasury authority to issue short time low interest bonds whenever the money is needed. Mr. Voorhees says this power would not be conferring any new power on the Secretary of the Treasury; it would be merely changing the act for the resumption of specie payments which gives him authority to issue long term bonds at a rate of interest that would now be considered very high.

The fact that the bond of the present Public Printer will expire on the first of January is responsible for the belief that a new Public Printer will be appointed in a short time. It is stated that President Cleveland has tendered the appointment to two men and that it was declined by both of them, because neither of them was willing to promise the President that they would run the office on civil service reform principles, making neither removals nor appointments on political grounds. If President Cleveland insists upon getting that promise from the man appointed it will be very difficult for him to get a Democratic Public Printer, and if one is found to make the promise and it becomes known his confirmation by the Senate would be extremely doubtful.

Senator Chandler of New Hampshire proposes to offer a resolution as soon as Congress reassembles that would if fathered by Senator Stewart or some other silver Senator set the gold men by the ears. It will ask that the United States invite all the countries of the world to send delegates to a monetary conference, the invitation to contain a declaration of the United States that the purpose of the conference shall be the establishment and maintenance of an international ratio, with an additional declaration stating that if such a ratio cannot be agreed upon it will be the purpose of the United States to adopt a single standard, and that standard not gold, but silver. Senator Chandler believes that if the United States will take this radical stand it will result in forcing the gold standard countries of Europe to agree to a double standard. It is doubtful, however, whether such a resolution can be adopted in either Senate or House.

Representatives McMillan and Bryan, the sub-committee of the House Ways and Means Committee charged with preparing the internal revenue bill which is to raise the money to make up the deficit that is expected to follow the reductions made by the new tariff bill, have agreed upon a report to be made to the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee. It is understood that the report will recommend a 2 per cent tax on incomes of $4,000 and upwards; a tax upon personal property inheritances (rate undecided;) a tax of $1.50 per 1,000 on cigarettes, and of 6 cents a pack upon playing cards. They estimate that a bill in accordance with their recommendations would make a revenue of $45,000,000.

Undisputed Merit.

The great success of the Royal Baking Powder is due to the extreme care exercised by its manufacturers to make it entirely pure, uniform in quality and of the highest leavening power. All the scientific knowledge, care and skill, attained by a twenty years' practical experience are contributed toward this end, and no pharmaceutical preparation can be dispensed with a greater accuracy, precision and exactness. Every article used is absolutely pure. A number of chemists are employed to test the strength of each ingredient, so that its exact power and effect in combination with its co-ingredients is definitely known. Nothing is trusted to chance, and no person is employed in the preparation of the materials used or the manufacture of the powder, who is not an expert in his particular branch of the business. As a consequence, the Royal Baking Powder is of the highest grade of excellence, always pure, wholesome and uniform in quality. Each box is exactly like every other, and will retain its powers and produce the same and the highest leavening effect in any climate, at any time. The Government chemists after having analyzed all the principal brands in the market, in their reports placed the Royal Baking Powder at the head of the list for strength, purity and wholesomeness, and thousands of tests all over the country have further demonstrated the fact that its qualities are, in every respect, unrivaled.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Gentlemen: I take pleasure in informing you of the very beneficial results which have followed the use of DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE in the case of myself and wife. For a year I was subject to a distressing pain at the base of the brain and upper portion of the spinal cord. I lost flesh and was greatly troubled with sleeplessness. Your Nervine was highly recommended to me. My case had been so obstinate that I had no confidence in the efficacy of any medicine. Yet as a last resort I consented to give it a trial. Much to my surprise, I experienced marked benefit; my sleeplessness disappeared; my headache was removed; my spirits and general health greatly improved. I soon gained

On New Year's day ripe strawberries, lemons and oranges were picked from vines and trees on the residence grounds of the editor of this paper in this place. The orange and lemon trees were planted four years ago. A number of the former are over seven feet high and all bore fruit this season. The trees, which are of the Washington Naval variety, have never been protected from frost, but have taken their chances with other fruit trees in the open air. Out of fourteen trees planted four years ago every one are alive and in a flourishing condition.

CITY TRUSTEES.

The Jail Proposition Still Hangs Fire and the Criminal Element Rejoiceth.

The Board of City Trustees held their regular monthly meeting last Wednesday, and as usual since the City Jail burned down over a year ago nothing was accomplished by the City Dads toward building a new one. This is to be deplored, as Chris. Evans is again at large and should he happen over this way and be taken alive by Marshal Sparks and Deputy Jim Albertson, why—where are we at?

Trustees Weyl, Litzius and Seipp were present and Trustees Schocken and Trudgen were absent.

After the reading of the minutes of the last regular meeting, Trusteee Seipp asked for further time to report on the condition of the streets and it was so ordered.

Clerk Breitenbach submitted his semi-annual report on the financial condition of the city, which was submitted to the Finance Committee.

In regard to the building of a new jail, Trustee Seipp and Litzius, the committee appointed by the Board to select plans and specifications for the same, submitted separate reports.

Trustee Seipp recommended that a Jail be built inside of the City Pavilion, the same to be constructed of the sheet iron donated by the county several months ago. The iron work to be securely spiked to a frame consisting of two-inch planking supported by posts.

Trustee Litzius' plan located the Jail outside of the Pavilion, the same to be built entirely of stone, with an arched roof and cement floor and to be enclosed with a board fence.

Owing to the absence of a full Board no action was taken.

The Clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for plowing and harrowing the Plaza grounds and the Plaza Committee of the Board were instructed to plant shade and ornamental trees in the same in the place of those that have died.

The following bills were allowed and ordered paid:

J. M. Cheney	$ 4.25
G. Noli	16.00
G. W. Sparks	15.00
Geo. Spanning	7.50
H. E. Calderwood	19.50
L. H. Green	59.66
Robt. Bain	23.10
John Wagnon	53.50
H. H. Granice	14.10
B. Anselme	2.00
John Revie	42.00
P. Baccala	1.00
A. Reimuth	37.50
Chas. Bull	4.00
Total	$299.21

The bills of George Spanning, F. W. Bean, Fred. Foutts and Louis Foutts were laid over.

River Improvement.

A delegation of citizens of this and other counties of the State, representing the California River Improvement Convention, will leave for Washington about the middle of the month to work and lobby for an appropriation for dredging the navigable streams of the State, among others Sonoma and Petaluma rivers.

The former stream in many places is rapidly filling up with debris and where there was twenty feet of water thirty years ago there is today hardly sufficient to float a mud scow.

The expenses of the trip are expected to be borne by the counties of Sonoma, Shasta, Tehama, Butte, Glenn, Colusa, Sutter, Yuba, Sacramento, Yolo, Solano, San Francisco, Alameda, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Merced and Madera. The Boards of Supervisors of these counties have each been asked to help out by voting $300 toward the expenses.

This movement, says the San Francisco Bulletin, means a vast increase in our transportation facilities, the cheapening of freights, a safety value upon railroad charges, the development of the latent resources of the most important and extensive section of the State, the development of manufacturing enterprises not now possible; thus restoring the general prosperity of the State, giving employment to labor and being of special benefit to all the counties bordering the navigable waters sought to be improved.

The delegates going to Washington are Wm. P. Edwards of Sonoma county, Senator Wm. Johnstone of Sacramento, George Ohleyer of Sutter, Edward McGettigan of Solano, S. D. Woods of San Joaquin and J. M. Gleaves of Shasta.

Don't ruin your digestive organs with pills and purgatives. Take Simmons Liver Regulator.

W. A. McCauley returned last Wednesday evening from a pleasant visit to the metropolis.

The Union Hotel bar, under the supervision of A. A. Enke, will be supplied with the very best of wines, whiskeys and cigars to be had in the market. *

ON TO HUMBOLDT.

Reported Extension of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway.

President Foster of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway is seriously considering the proposition of extending his railroad from Ukiah, its present terminus, to Eureka, Humboldt county, and there is no doubt but what the work of extension will commence at an early day.

The extension means everything for the people of Sonoma, Mendocino, Humboldt and Lake counties, as it will open up a section of the richest agricultural, timber and mineral lands in the State.

It is only a question of time when the San Francisco and North Pacific with its superb water front at Tiburon will become a transcontinental line and one of the great railway systems of California.

The Firemens' Masquerade.

The masquerade ball given by the volunteer firemen of Sonoma at Union Hall on New Year's night was largely attended. About thirty-five couple took part in the grand march, which was witnessed by a large number of spectators.

Miss Katie McDonell took first lady's prize, a beautiful toilet set, for best sustained character. She represented an old woman.

Miss Maggie Stevenot took the lady's prize, a writing desk, for second best sustained character. Miss Stevenot represented the reporter of the "SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE."

Jas. Wilson was awarded first gentleman's prize, a shaving set, for best sustained gentleman's character. He represented a darkey dude, and sustained the part to perfection.

Carl Haderman carried off the gentleman's prize for second best sustained character.

The judges who awarded the prizes were Messrs. Ralph Perkins, A. F. Pauli and Henry Stademan.

The music furnished by Parks' orchestra of Santa Rosa was all that could be desired and the affair was pronounced by participants to be one of the most enjoyable masquerades ever held in Sonoma.

Death of Grandma Box.

Mrs. Lucy Box, one of the early pioneer women of Sonoma Valley, died at the home of her granddaughter Mrs. Cole, at Kenwood, on Friday of last week. The deceased had been ailing for a long time and her death was not unexpected. Mrs. Box, with her husband, located in Sonoma Valley forty-two years ago, and raised a large family of children, and the descendants in this and adjoining counties are said to number nearly one hundred. She was the mother of Allen, Isiah and Samuel Box, and of Mrs. Judge Zane, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Guthrie and Mrs. White. Mrs. Box was born in Mississippi and was aged 78 years. The funeral took place from her residence in Kenwood last Sunday, the remains being interred in Valley Cemetery in this place. The funeral was largely attended by relatives and friends.

THE COLLECTORSHIP.

The Tehama Man Will Get the Place.

A dispatch from United States Senator White to a friend in Sacramento says that Waverly Stairley of Red Bluff, who has been recommended for the position of Collector of the Fourth Internal Revenue District by the California delegation, will undoubtedly get the place. There were a large number of aspirants for the position in the district, among others being the Hon. Robt. Howe of this place and W. S. Leake.

An exchange says: "A woman in Bay City, Michigan, disguised herself as a man and clerked in a store for a year, and then applied for membership in the Knights of Pythias and was initiated. During the work of the third rank her sex was discovered. It seems that in the third rank they have an India rubber rat and celluloid snake which run by clock work inside, and which seem very natural indeed. The idea is to let them run at the candidate to see if he will flinch. When the snake ran at the girl she kept her nerve all right, but when the rat tried to run up her trousers leg she grabbed imaginary skirts in both hands and jumped into a refrigerator that was standing near (used in the work of the fourth degree), and screamed bloody murder. The girl is a member of the lodge and there is no help for it. This may open the eyes of members of secret societies and cause them to investigate. One lodge here, we understand, takes precautions against the admission of a woman by carefully examining the feet of an applicant. If the feet are cold enough to freeze ice cream then the candidate is blackballed."

"The old year passes, the year of trial and loss, of earthquake, cyclone and flood, of panic and overthrow. Without giving credence in any way, there must be conceded something very beautiful in the idea of Lieutenant Totten, late of Yale College, whose prophecies have commanded not a little attention. Early in the present year he declared it would be a season of unprecedented disaster; of storm and dread in the natural and the business world, a time of men's hearts failing them for fear, and of trembling among the nations. So far, the prediction has fulfilled itself, and not till the records of the year are written up will most persons be aware of its ghastly sum of disaster of every kind. But for those who survive its terrors comes the soothing prophecy that 1894 is the beginning of the thousand years of millennial peace. With it dawns the longed-for era of mercy and good will, when seasons shall grow milder and storms lose their rage and prosperty take up its abode over the earth. The balance of ages will tremble surely to the side of justice and human rights, error and oppression be shorn of their power. The sunny years of Saturn's mild and golden reign will reflect the gladness and good will among mankind.

"The picture is comforting and cheering, albeit it proves no more than a visionary's dream. But why cannot it be realized in part? Why should we not, in gazing on it, resolve that all our efforts for this and every coming year shall go to forward the day of justice and good will on earth? At least each one of us can do justice and spread good will in his own daily work as far as his own influence reaches. It needs no association, no brotherhood of endeavor; it can never be reached but by individual conviction and effort. If the beauty and desire of that golden age could enter each mind, so that each lowly worker were impelled to do his part to realize it, with inward, silent resolve, sphere touching sphere, heart warming heart unconsciously, how long before these links of blessedness would span the globe. It is a sweet, a ravishing ideal, which no one can see without impulse toward its fulfillment, the year of grace 1894."—December Housewife, New York.

For pains in the chest there is nothing better than a flannel cloth satuarated with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It will produce a counter irritation without blistering, and is not so disagreeable as mustard; in fact is much superior to any plaster on account of its pain-relieving qualities. If used in time it will prevent pneumonia. 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers.

Marco Bozzaris.

Soon after Fitz-Greene Halleck had published his stirring "Marco Bozzaris," he repeated the poem to a lady, an intimate friend of his. She expressed great admiration of the beautiful lines, but when he was in full enjoyment of what he considered her perfect appreciation she surprised him by the innocent query.

"Who was Marco Bozzaris?"

"Well," said Mr. Halleck, despondently, "what's the use of becoming martyrs for liberty or of poets celebrating heroes if ladies won't even inform themselves about the events of the day?"

The remembrance of another incident connected with the poem never failed to elicit a groan from its author.

At a certain dinner party at which he was present, it was expected that each man should sing a song or make a speech. Among the guests was a Dutch Jew, whose English was execrable, and he had been previously persuaded by a joker to commit the whole of Marco Bozzaris to memory that he might recite it for the gratification of the poet and the poet's friends.

The day came and the Dutchman was called upon to speak.

"Shentlemans," said he rising, "I can neither make de speech nor sing de song, but I will deliver von grand poem."

This he proceeded relentlessly to do, and Halleck, when he heard his harmonious measures delivered in a mixture of English and Dutch, was divided between the temptation to laugh and cry. —Youth's Companion.

THE FLYAWAY HORSE.

Oh, a wonderful horse is the Flyaway Horse—
Perhaps you have seen him before:
Perhaps, while you slept, his shadow has swept
Through the moonlight that floats on the floor;
For it's only at night, when the stars twinkle bright,
That the Flyaway Horse, with a neigh
And a pull at his rein and a toss of his mane,
Is up on his heels and away!

The moon in the sky,
As he gallopeth by,
Cries, "Oh! what a marvelous sight!"
And the stars in dismay
Hide their faces away
In the lap of old Grandmother Night.

It is yonder, out yonder, the Flyaway Horse
Speedeth ever and ever away—
Over meadows and lanes, over mountains and plains,
Over streamlets that sing at their play.
And over the sea like a ghost sweepeth he,
While the ships they go sailing below,
And he speedeth so fast that the men at the mast
Ajudge him some portent of woe.

"What ho, there!" they cry,
As he flourishes by
With a whisk of his beautiful tail,
And the fish in the sea
Are as scared as can be,
From the nautilus up to the whale.

And the Flyaway Horse seeks those faraway lands
You little folk dream of at night,
Where candy trees grow, and honey brooks flow,
And cornfields with popcorn are white;
And the beasts in the wood are ever so good
To children who visit them there—
What glory astride of a lion to ride,
Or to wrestle around with a bear!

The monkeys, they say,
"Come on, let us play,"
And they frisk in the cocoanut trees,
While the parrots that cling
To the peanut vines sing
Or converse with comparative ease!

Off! Scamper to bed! You shall ride him to-night!
For as soon as you've fallen asleep,
With a jubilant neigh he shall bear you away
Over forest and hillside and deep!
But tell us, my dear, all you see and you hear
In those beautiful lands over there,
Where the Flyaway Horse wings his faraway course
With the wee one consigned to his care.

Then grandma will cry
In amazement, "Oh, my!"
And she'll think it could never be so,
And only we two
Will know it is true—
You and I, little precious, will know!

—Eugene Field in Chicago Record.

Law and Medicine.

We have directed attention to the fact that railroad doctors are the poorest paid of all railroad employees, while railroad lawyers are the best paid. Further, these latter become in a professional way so familiar with changes in railroad affairs that they are able to purchase or sell railroad securities to their own certain profit. In a well known accident insurance company a lawyer receives a salary of $10,000 a year for about an hour's work daily, while a doctor, better educated and quite as able, who gives more than half his time in serving this same company, gets $1,000 a year. Comment is unnecessary. Of course the difficulty lies in the fact that the company wants this lawyer above all others and pays him accordingly, while it would take any one of dozens of doctors, should the one holding the place choose to resign it.—American Lancet.

A Graveyard Proposal.

The grave digger of a Scottish parish made up his mind to propose to the minister's servantgirl, and he proceeded to do it in the most businesslike manner.

He asked her to take a walk with him, and she consented. Leading her to the scene of his labors, he walked by her side in silence until they reached a particular lot in the burying ground. Then, becoming very much affected, he said:

"Look there, Jennie, that's whaur a' my folk lie, and that's whaur I'll lie mysel' if I'm spared. Wad ye like to lie there, Jennie?"

She replied that she would, and so the matter was settled.—Youth's Companion.

The Land of Windmills.

Holland is the land of flatness, windmills, dikes, canals and cheese. Of the latter they produce 40,000 tons and more in a year and consume only a fourth part. Alkmaar, one of the most noted and historical towns in the country, is the great cheese market, and in its streets over 12,000,000 pounds are sold annually.

According to the latest available returns, Russia has the largest prison population, 168,840; next comes India with 76,510, Italy with 68,828, Japan with 63,828, France with 60,836, the United States with 59,258 and Great Britain with 30,474.

A TENNYSON STORY.

He Was Blunt About the Value of His Poem, "The Revenge."

A capital story which is quite authentic is told about the late laureate and his wonderful poem, "The Revenge." It was first published in The Nineteenth Century in 1878 or 1879. On the eve of its publication Tennyson invited between 30 and 40 of his most intimate friends to his house in Eaton square, in order that he might recite this patriotic piece to them. It is well known that Lord Tennyson was an excellent man of business. Had he written "Paradise Lost" he would have been both very hungry and very cold before accepting £10 for the copyright.

A letter of his is in existence, which, after offering the right to publish his works at a certain price, ends with a declaration that whether the publisher accepts his offer or not he (Lord Tennyson) would not accept "a blessed penny" less. In fact, he was very much like a certain Leeds banker, who, when asked by a customer to cash a draft for a very large amount over the counter replied, "We do nothing for nothing for nobody here." In Mr. Wemyss Reid's "Life of Lord Houghton" there is an amusing letter from the late laureate, which compare the writing of poetry for nothing to the milking of the goats.

When the recital of "The Revenge" in Eaton square took place, there was much "jingo" feeling about in fashionable society in London, and not a few infected persons were among the select audience. As the poet proceeded in his rich and sonorous tones, rendered all the more attractive by his Lincolnshire accent, the favored few hung upon his words. When he reached the last lines:

And the whole sea plunged and fell on the shot shattered navy of Spain,
And the little Revenge herself went down
by the island crags,
To be lost evermore in the main,

the feelings of all present were strung up into excitement and enthusiasm, when to the amazement of all the laureate added, without the slightest pause and without the least change of tone in his voice, "and the beggars only gave me £300 for it when it was worth at least £500 or more."—Cor. Leeds Mercury.

Bessemer's Sun Furnace.

Sir Henry Bessemer, the well know inventor of the steel process which bears his name, tells how he tried to construct a "sun furnace" and failed. His invention was intended to revolutionize not only the science of metallurgy, but the whole world. It was to attain a temperature of nearly 60,000 degrees, and therefore fuse anything and everything, and Sir Henry puts the blame of its failure to fulfill these expectations on the stupidity of a country lensmaker. The "sun furnace" consisted of a wooden building 35 feet high and about 12 feet square. A few feet from the ground was fixed a large inclinable mirror for catching the rays of the sun. From this mirror the rays were to be reflected onto a number of powerful superimposed lenses above, which, by a simple arrangement, were to throw the enormously concentrated rays upon whatever object might be in the crucible below.

Such was the mighty plan, but the manufacturer of the upper glasses brought it miserably to naught, for instead of turning them out uniform he made them all different and thus spoiled the focus. Sir Henry was so disgusted and disheartened that he refused to go over the ground again, and so the pretentious scheme lapsed, but the peculiar furnace remains to this day a remarkable monument of what might have been.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Secretive Chinamen.

Chinamen are very secretive, and housewives seldom find out how they prepare certain favorite dishes, for as soon as a "chef" is watched he hastily gathers together his ingredients and utensils and retires to the pantry or discontinues operations altogether, and it is quite impossible to get him to write out a formula of any kind. The young son of a family living near Los Angeles once purchased an ostrich egg, and as an experiment had the cook make an omelet of it, requesting him to write the recipe. It goes without saying the omelet was more powerful than delicate, and the description read, "One heapee big egg he make one heapee big omelee."—Los Angeles Letter.

An Armenian Legend About Tobacco.

Professor Tcheraz tells some very interesting legends from the folk lore of Armenia. One of these is that the Saviour was passing through a certain field where all the plants in the field bowed down to him with the exception of the tobacco plant. Displeased at this, the Saviour said, "Accurst thou art, burn forever." "The Armenians," added the professor, "assist largely in carrying out the sentence which they believe to have been pronounced on the plant."—Boston Record.

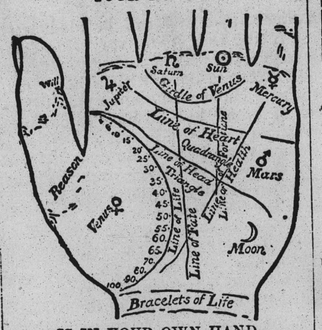
YOUR FUTURE



IS IN YOUR OWN HAND.

Palmistry assumes to tell what the lines in your hand indicate. It will amuse you, if nothing more. The above diagram almost explains itself. The length of the LINE OF LIFE indicates probable age to which you will live. Each BRACELET gives you thirty years. Well marked LINE OF HEAD denotes brain power; clear LINE OF FORTUNE fame or riches. Both combined mean success in life; but you must keep up with modern ideas to win it. You will find plenty of these in Demorest's Family Magazine, so attractively presented that every member of the family is entertained. It is a dozen magazines in one. A CLEAR LINE OF HEART bespeaks tenderness; a straight LINE OF FATE, peaceful life; the reverse if crooked. A well defined LINE OF HEALTH spares you doctors' bills; so will the health hints in Demorest's. No other magazine publishes so many stories to interest the home circle. You will be subject to extremes of high spirits or despondency if you have the GIRDLE OF VENUS well marked; keep up your spirits by having Demorest's Magazine to read. By subscribing to it for 1894 you will receive a gallery of exquisite works of art of great value, besides the superb premium picture, 17x21 inches, "I'm a Daisy!" which is almost a real baby, and equal to the original oil painting which cost $3 00; and you will have a magazine that cannot be equaled by any in the world for its beautiful illustrations and subject matter, that will keep you posted on all the topics of the day, and all the fads, and different items of interest about the household, besides furnishing interesting reading matter, both grave and gay, for the whole family; and while Demorest's is not a fashion magazine, its fashion pages are perfect, and you get with it, free of cost, all the patterns you wish to use during the year, and in any size you choose. Send in your subscription at once, only $2 00, and you will really get over $25.00 in value. Address the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York. If you are unacquainted with the Magazine, send for a specimen copy. A large QUADRANGLE means honesty; a large TRIANGLE, generosity; long FIRST DIVISION OF THUMB, strong will; LONG SECOND DIVISION, reasoning faculty. The MOUNT OF JUPITER betokens ambition; that of SATURN, prudence; the SUN, love of splendor; MARS, courage; MOON, imagination; VENUS, love of pleasure; and MERCURY, intelligence. Take our advice as above and you will be sure to possess the last and most valuable quality.
